

Please Note:

This X-Wing Fighter 3D model is provided for the sole purpose of personal enjoyment. The copying, reproduction, use, distribution, transfer, publishing, sale or offer to sale, at an auction or otherwise, or any other act of similar kind, of this design for commercial purposes, or purposes anyway related to making profit, is strictly prohibited with the exceptions outlined below*. You have the right to distribute this 3D model unmodified and without removing the accompanying text documents as long as it remains free of charge and you have the right to modify this 3D model as you wish just as long it's for your own personal use but you can't distribute it modified without permission from me Angel David Guzmán - PixelOz. Credit to PixelOz Designs and Angel David Guzmán must remain in all distributions, in any format.

You may make this 3D model available for download on your web site free of charge via a link to the original zip file on the addresses in which I officially distribute it (in DeviantArt and Mediafire), or by placing the original zip file on your own server, and linking to the unaltered file on your server. You may offer this 3D model as a bonus in any legal promotion (no spam, adware or spyware) provided "NO" currency value is placed on this 3D model anywhere in said promotion.

This 3D model is a labor of love that I its creator did as a gift to the community of computer users and Star Wars fans like me and it belongs in part to them too, and in addition to that the original design of the X-Wing Fighter belongs to Lucasarts to begin with. Please do not claim that the 3D model was created by you, I give these designs for free to the people without asking anything in exchange for them and their creation is sometimes very time consuming, respect that and keep this 3D model free.

* You could use this 3D model in a commercial project (a game for example) or an animation an interactive demo or anything similar and you have to credit me for its creation if you do so but you cannot profit in any way from the selling of the model itself as a 3D model resource directly and again remember that the original design belongs to Lucasarts in the first place.
